Words are so inadequate to express our sorrow and sympathy at a time like this. We hope it helps to know we are thinking of you and praying for God to send strength, peace and comfort to you.

“ Sherma and Mickey,
We know your hearts are heavy, but just remember, God does not put more on us than we can bear. There is a reason for all things, We just have to remember that and know they are in a place where there is no more pain and worry. My thoughts and Prayers are with u both..Love u both, Mom and Dad

“ To my friend, Mary, and family:

Mary, the two of us have shared some mountain tops and some valleys, but nothing compared to this. My heart is broken for each of you.

The Bible says and so we believe that God is present...even in this deep dark tunnel you are walking through. My prayer is that as you walk from room to room, look at the trees, see the flowers and birds, and look up into the heavens and see the moon and the stars, you will experience the presence of our Heavenly Father. He has promised when we walk through the fire, down in the valley, and through the storms He will be there. May His presence be very real to you is my prayer in the days to come.

You are each one in my heart and on my mind.

*With love,
Judy*
